

WIDOW IS GIVEN $7,000 DAMAGES IN SON'S DEATH

Mrs. Verna H. Arndt, N. Stratton St., Friday evening was awarded $7,000 damages by an Adams County jury for the loss of her son, Robert Elwood Arndt, who was fatally injured in an auto accident eight-tenths of a mile north of here on the Biglerville Rd., October 17, 1950.

Two verdicts were returned by the jury about an hour and fifteen minutes after it began its deliberations at 4 o'clock Friday evening.

Mrs. Arndt had sued Paul A. Walter, Chambersburg, St., and Harry A. Zentz, Thurmont R. D., for damages as the executor of the estate of her son and for herself as mother of the youth.

Two Verdicts Returned

In its first verdict, the jury found in favor of Mrs. Arndt, as executor of the estate, in the sum of $2,000, against the two defendants. In the second verdict, the jury found in favor of Mrs. Arndt, as mother of the deceased, in the amount of $5,000, against the two defendants.

Donald V. Manning, Hillcrest Place, the 12th jury drawn when the last jury of the November term, the jury hearing the Arndt case, was selected, served as foreman.

Testimony given in the trial Friday showed that Mrs. Arndt had $1,899.75 expenses as executor, including $500 for a brain specialist called in the vain attempt, that included two operations, to save her son's life following the accident. Other expenses included the funeral costs, medical and hospital bills. In his charge to the jury, Judge W. C. Sheely had told the veniremen that if they found in favor of Mrs. Arndt, they could rightly estimate a sum for the pain and suffering suffered by young Arndt during the period he was conscious after suffering head injuries in the crash. The additional $100.25 amount in the $2,000 award apparently was for that purpose.

Crashed In Heavy Fog

The amount awarded Mrs. Arndt as the mother of the fatally injured youth was based upon the amount he would have "reasonably contributed to her support during his and her anticipated lifetimes," according to the instructions given the jury by the court, in case the jury found for Mrs. Arndt.

The young man, a telegraph operator for the Western Maryland Railways, resided at home with his widowed mother, and testimony was given concerning purchases of food, articles for house repairs, etc., and bills paid by him.

The accident according to testimony at the trial, occurred in a heavy fog, described by witnesses variously as a "pea soup fog" and "the heaviest fog I ever saw." Zentz's truck, driving toward Gettysburg, broke down on the highway and the Zentz told the jury he tried "all gears" in an attempt to move it. Finding he could not move the vehicle, he went to the rear of the truck and found the axle had broken. He then went to the front of the vehicle to obtain a flare, saw an auto approaching, felt he did not have time to secure a flare and ran back along the highway, in an attempt to "wave down" the auto to prevent its crashing into the halted truck. The first car narrowly escaped the truck, when its driver swerved upon seeing "someone jumping on the road." A second car, driven by Walter and with Arndt as a passenger, swerved, but the side of the car hit the side of the truck and Arndt was fatally injured.

HOLD YOUTHS IN CAR THEFTS

Two youths identified by Hanover police as Kenneth L. Becker, 19, Hanover, and Clair L. Kling, 17, Abbotstown, were committed to York County institutions Friday morning after being arraigned before Justice of the Peace William Y. Nail Jr. on charges of burglary and the theft of three automobiles early Friday morning.

Police said the two, in their short crime spree which started about 11 Thursday night and ended when they were apprehended about 12:30 a.m., burglarized the Esso service station in the 1200 block of Broadway, Hanover, and a few minutes later broke into the Amoco service station at 875 Broadway, Hanover.

YOUTH RUNS INTO UTILITY POLE

George Louis Spoerl, Cumberland R. 1, Md., said by police to be a Gettysburg College student, escaped injury this morning when his auto crashed into a utility pole on W. Railroad St.

Borough police said Spoerl was driving west on Railroad St., off Carlisle St., at 3:15 o'clock this morning, when his car ran off the road half on the railroad track and half on the sidewalk, and smashed into the utility pole, snapping it off at its base.

Damage was estimated at $800 to the auto and $100 to the pole.

A Western Maryland Railway train was delayed until tow trucks removed the auto from the track.

Police said a charge of reckless driving will be placed before a local justice of the peace against Spoerl.

U. S. MOVES TO BLOCK MOTEL ON BATTLEFIELD

Deputy U. S. Marshal William L. Capello, Harrisburg, Friday served "orders for delivery or possession" on Kate Bixler, Gettysburg R. 2, and B. Ronald and Doris McCleary, Chambersburg, to take over their properties along the Emmitsburg Rd. about a half-mile south of here at the intersection of a battlefield avenue with the Emmitsburg Rd.

Capello's action followed the filing of condemnation papers by the U. S. Government before U. S. District Judge John W. Murphy at Scranton.

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Scranton, the condemnation came about "to prevent construction of a motel overlooking the scene of Pickett's Cavalry charge in the Battle of Gettysburg."

U. S. Attorney Robert J. Hourigan, who filed the papers with the district court for the U. S. Justice Department at the request of the Department of Interior, also deposited $26,000 for the government for the eminent domain acquisition of the five acres involved.

Planned To Build Motel
Mr. and Mrs. McCleary purchased one property of approximately four acres, from Luther D. and Mildred Patterson, Littlestown, for $16,700, late in October. They removed a half century-old building from the lot preparatory to constructing a motel.

The government, moving to acquire that tract to prevent the motel construction, also decided to move against the Bixler property immediately. The Bixler property contains about one acre.

According to the action of the federal court, Mr. and Mrs. McCleary and Miss Bixler have 20 days in which to answer the petitions. The government, in making the move, stated in the petitions that the land "is necessary for the Gettysburg National Military Park."

MINOR ACCIDENT

Borough police Friday afternoon at 1:55 o'clock investigated an auto accident on Buford Ave. near the railroad crossing. Officer Charles Culp Jr. said Austin Dillon, Gettysburg R. 3, had parked on the north side of the street and opened the door of his car just as Dr. David C. Stoner, W. Middle St., drove by. Dr. Stoner's car struck the door of the Dillon vehicle, damaging it.

2 INJURED IN TWO ACCIDENTS FRIDAY NIGHT

Two persons were injured and damage totaled more than $1,600 in two auto accidents on the Bonneauville Rd. Friday night.

The first occurred at 6:40 o'clock Friday night 3 1/2 miles east of here. State police said Ivan E. Homan, 63, Hanover, was driving west when his vehicle collided with an eastbound auto driven by Floyd J. King, 46, 68 W. Middle St. The officers said a tractor-trailer was going up grade, headed west and a car immediately back of the tractor-trailer slowed because of the heavy vehicle ahead. Homan swung out and his car and the eastbound King auto collided causing $500 damage to Homan's vehicle and $200 to King's car.

Brought to the Warner Hospital by the Gettysburg firemen's ambulance, Homan was treated for back injuries and discharged.

$930 Crash At Bonneauville

The second crash occurred "three-tenths of a mile from the center of Bonneauville" at 9:15 o'clock Friday night.

Police said William M. Bowling, 20, Biglerville R. 1, was driving west when his car overtook a west-bound auto driven by Angela K. Lawrence, 19, 109 Second St., McSherrystown.

Bowling swung his 1952 Hudson to the right in an attempt to avoid striking the slower moving 1951 Chevrolet driven by Miss Lawrence, the officers said. The left side of Bowling's sedan side-swiped the right side of the Lawrence auto. The Bowling car continued on the right side and struck a utility pole. The vehicle to rest beside the pole.

Bowling suffered contusions of the body and a laceration of the scalp. The Gettysburg firemen's ambulance was summoned, with drivers leaving with the ambulance from the annual firemen's public turkey party at the engine house. Upon their return, the firemen said the injured person had refused ambulance service.

MORE THAN 500 ENJOY COMEDY AT HIGH SCHOOL

A comedy of high school football, "Time Out for Ginger," pleased an audience of 500 to 600 persons Friday evening in the Gettysburg High School auditorium. The annual fall play was given by a cast of 10 members of the Mask and Wig Dramatic club at the school.

Without taking the audience to the gridiron, the three-act comedy entertained the crowd with its presentation of complications in a banker's home with three teen-age girls when one of them made the football team, another played the lead in a school play and the third was having boy-friend problems. James Bricker as the father of the household, whose speech-making to the high school got him in trouble at the bank where he was employed and led his 14-year-old daughter, "Ginger," to go out for football, turned in a good performance in a difficult role.

Estimate 25 Million Loss In California Forest Fire; Blazes Out Of Control For Third Day

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A wind-spurred brush and timber fire that already has cracked and burned through 25,000 acres in the San Gabriel Mountains blazed out of control for the third day today.

The U. S. Forest Service estimated damage so far as 25 million dollars.

Fanned by winds of hurricane force, the blaze broke out Thursday near deer Flat Camp, some 14 miles above the suburban communities of Monrovia and Azusa.

1,400 Men In Fight

In three hours, the fire raged eight miles down the thickly wooded and brush covered slopes, and in six hours it had advanced 12 miles on a four-mile front.

Winds slackened, however, and a Forest Service spokesman said that control is expected tonight or tomorrow.

The fire was burning some 25 to 30 miles northeast of downtown Los Angeles and 15 to 20 miles from the northernmost sections of the city, which were in no danger at all. Communities closer to the blaze were in no immediate danger.

The famous Mt. Wilson Observatory was reported seriously imperiled during the early stages of the fire, but flames were beaten back yesterday several miles east of the peak on which the observatory and a number of television transmitters are located.

Meanwhile, some 1,400 men, including Indian "hot shots," battled the blaze along a 50-mile perimeter. The specially trained Indian firefighters were brought in from Winslow, Ariz., and Gallup, N. M.

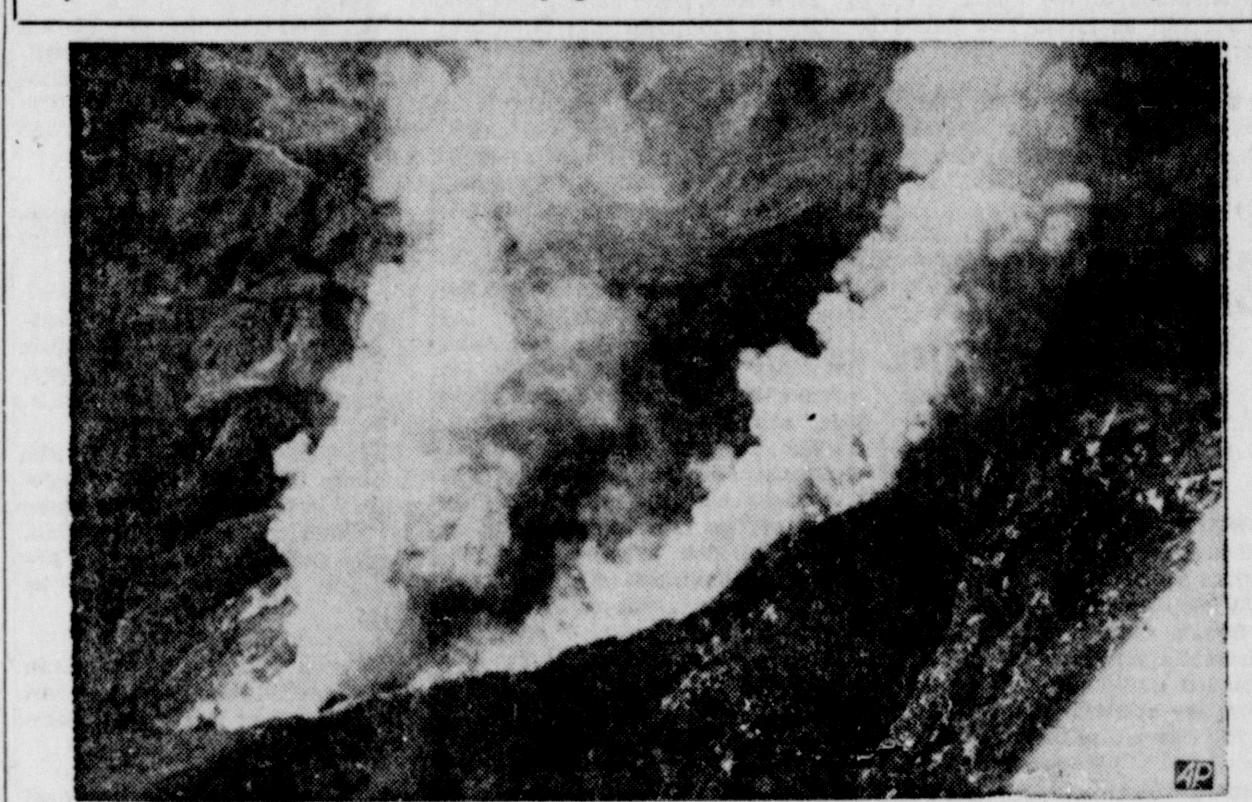

The eastern flank was reported partly controlled as the firefighters concentrated on four "hot spots."

APPEALS COURT DISMISSAL OF DAMAGE ACTION

H. Walter Ress, Akron, O., may get his day in court after all.

Ress, a manufacturer's representative for waitress and waiter's clothing, had brought suit for damage against the estate of Samuel Mattingly, late of Gettysburg, to recover damages for injuries he received May 8, 1952 when he was struck by Mattingly's car while walking across Carlisle St. at Lincoln Square.

Ress's case against Mrs. Edith F. Baker, the administratrix of the estate was dismissed Thursday when Ress was called to testify, and it was learned that Ress was the only eye-witness to the accident who would testify.

Compulsory Non-Suit

Under the "dead man's law" which prohibits a living disputant in a suit from testifying if the other disputant is dead, a compulsory nonsuit was directed by Judge Chauncey Deputy.

Today Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, representing Ress, moved to have the "non-suit" removed, because of new findings in the case. The motion stated that Ress had found an eye-witness to the accident. And also had found testimony (Continued On Page 2)

Man's 1st Breakthrough To Outer Space Claimed By AF

By DON GUY

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Man's first breakthrough into outer space was claimed today by a 30-year-old civilian scientist of the Air Force.

Physicist Maurice Dubin said two fragments of aluminum had been blasted beyond the pull of the earth's gravity. They may now be hitting other planets, or be drawn towards a flaming death in the sun, he said.

The metallic chunks — meteors in reverse — were exploded above the New Mexico desert last Oct. 16. Dubin said an Aerobee rocket had been used to hurl three explosive shells to an altitude of 54 miles.

The explosives, known as "shaped charges," funneled the blast so that aluminum fragments shot out at a velocity of 40,000 miles per hour, about 11 miles a

A 19-year-old Gettysburg sailor, hitchhiking home for a weekend from Norfolk, Va., was beaten and robbed early this morning along the Lincoln Highway, five miles east of here, and left unconscious by a trio of "hepcats" who had given him a lift.

The victim, Robert J. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hoffman, Gettysburg R. 2, said the thugs took $10, "all the money I had." He was treated at the Warner Hospital for lacerations and bruises and directed to report to sick bay when he returns to his post Sunday.

Meanwhile state and Gettysburg police were looking for three men in a light-colored 1949 or 1950 model, two-door car which drove off in the direction of Gettysburg after attacking and robbing Hoffman.

Aided By Night Watchman

Picked up west of New Oxford by the trio, Hoffman said the men had told him they were from Georgia. Hoffman said they did not use Georgia accents and described them as "hepcats." After driving a mile and a half, they stopped the car and Hoffman got out of the machine also to let the pair in the back seat use the door at his side. Then he was hit over the head and beaten.

When he regained consciousness, he walked to the Ridgway Tile Company plant at Guidens where he asked the night watchman, Orville Riffle, Gettysburg R. 3, for water to wash the blood from his face. Riffle called the state police at Gettysburg and two officers went to the scene. At 3:30 a.m. borough police were alerted to be on the lookout for the trio.

Hoffman estimated the attack took place about 2 a.m.

DRIVER CHARGED

Richard E. Keller, 18, New Oxford, was arrested Wednesday about 12:35 p.m. and charged with reckless driving by Hanover police in an information placed with Justice of the Peace William Y. Nail Jr. Police said Keller was driving around Hanover High School and sliding his car sidewise at street corners while students of the school were returning to classes.

DRAW NUMBERS TO BREAK TIES

Emory A. Flohr, Liberty Twp., won a new term as school director Friday afternoon by drawing the low number in a drawing conducted by the county election board at the courthouse to break a tie for the office.

Flohr, who is one of the oldest school directors in point of service in the Fairfield joint school district, was tied with Joseph P. Timlin for election after the official count of the recent election. Flohr was the only one of them two men to appear. He drew No. 56. A clerk drew No. 81 for Timlin. The election goes to the holder of the lowest number according to the law governing the drawing off of ties.

Two other ties were also broken. Harry L. Tate received the low number, 22, in the drawing of the tie with Marion Murtorf for inspector of elections in Huntington Twp. No. 2. Murtorf's number was 43. Both were drawn by clerks, neither being present.

Clerks also drew to break the tie for inspector of elections in McSherrystown Second Ward. Jules Roth was the winner with a 72 drawn for him and a 74 for Margaret Topper.

SAYS HE TOOK TO STEALING TO AVOID JAIL

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Walter Slocum embarked on a career of crime recently because he wanted "to keep out of jail."

That's what he told Judge Michael Eagan yesterday when he pleaded guilty to four charges of burglary and two larceny counts.

His lawyer asked the court to be lenient because Slocum had never before been arrested. "It's hard for me to understand why a man 30 years old would start off on a career of crime," the judge said.

The defendant replied: "I tried to keep out of jail," then related that his estranged wife threatened to have him arrested if he fell behind in his $80 monthly support payments.

So, he took to stealing. Judge Eagan postponed sentencing for a week.

Historians Note Mistakes In Dates

BOSTON (AP)—Historical sharpies read Gov. Furolo's Thanksgiving proclamation which says:

"Whereas, it was in Massachusetts in November of 1620 that the pilgrims of Plymouth Plantation—after a siege of frightening adversity that decimated their numbers and threatened all survival—found again their health restored, their food replenished, and their peace regained with the Indians."

The pilgrims landed at Provincetown Nov. 13, 1620, and at Plymouth the following month but their Thanksgiving observance, in gratitude for surviving the winter of 1620-21, was not until autumn in 1621, after the harvest.

He called on the youth to match Communist zeal "by speaking of the Faith and championing its cause in your associations with others."

Sheen, auxiliary bishop of New York, spoke at a convention rally of about 12,000 delegates in Convention Hall.

WILL OPEN FOUR GRAVES MONDAY IN GEIN CASE

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP)—Authorities plan to open as many as four graves Monday to check the ghoul story of Edward Gein, who admits slaying two women and pillaging at least nine graves. Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen met last night in Plainfield with three other officials to discuss opening graves in Plainfield Cemetery, one of two burial grounds Gein said he looted of female remains. Meanwhile Gein sits in the Wau-shara County Jail at Wautoma, awaiting a 30 days' mental test.

Orders Sanitary Test Circuit Judge Herbert A. Bunde yesterday ordered Gein sent to the Central State Hospital for the Criminally Insane to determine whether Gein is competent to stand trial on a first degree murder charge.

The hospital staff psychiatrists also will seek to determine whether Gein was sane Nov. 16, the date of the mutilation slaying of Mrs. Bernice Worden. The 38-year-old Plainfield widow was one of the two women the 51-year-old bachelor said he killed after observing they resembled his late mother.

Kileen said Gein would remain in the County Jail here three or four more days because authorities of other counties wish to question the man about missing persons.

Admits Two Murders

The only disappearance connected to Gein is that of Mrs. Mary Hogan, 54-year-old Bancroft tavern operator, who vanished Dec. 8, 1954. He admitted killing her.

Gein was arrested a week ago tonight after Mrs. Worden's decapitated and eviscerated body was found hanging by the heels in a shed at the rear of Gein's secluded farm house, seven miles from Plainfield.

The frail, 140-pound handyman admitted slaying her earlier that day and said he killed and slaughtered Mrs. Hogan in a similar fashion.

9 Heads From Graves

Ten skulls, one of them tentatively identified as Mrs. Hogan's, were found in the filthy, cluttered rooms Gein occupied on the first floor of the sagging, weathered farm house. Gein insisted nine of the heads came from graves he robbed in the Plainfield Cemetery and the Spiritland Cemetery in Wau-shara County.

Kileen said that one of the graves which will be opened is that of Mrs. Eleanor Adams, the only woman identified from the list of nine women whose graves Gein claimed he violated. Kileen said that if the first two graves opened failed to show mutilation of the corpses, there would be no further exhumations.

Meanwhile, criminologists at the State Crime Laboratory were asked to speed tests which they said would show whether dirt gathered at Gein's home came from the graveyards.

FIRST 31 ARE REJECTED FOR HOFFA'S JURY

NEW YORK (AP)—All of the first 31 prospective jurors for the wiretap conspiracy trial of James R. Hoffa and two others have been rejected, mainly because of apparent prejudice against the top Teamster official.

At the opening of the Federal Court trial yesterday, 43 talesman in all were called from a panel of 125.

Of the 31 talesmen questioned, 17 were excused after saying they had formed strong opinions in the case, 13 were eliminated through peremptory challenges by defense or prosecution, and one was "turned" down because he said he was a friend of chief prosecutor U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams.

Face Heavy Penalty

Questioning of prospective jurors will resume Monday.

Hoffa, president-elect of the Teamsters Union, is on trial with Bernard Brennan, president of Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard Spindel, of Holmes, N.Y., a professional wiretapper.

Hoffa is charged with conspiring with the others between 1953 and 1957 to tap telephones of subordinates in the Teamsters' headquarters in Detroit, where Hoffa resides.

If convicted, each of the defendants could receive a maximum sentence of one year in prison and a $1,000 fine.

CONVICT 12 OF FRAUD CHARGES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Federal grand jury yesterday indicted 12 men accused of cheating customers of at least $100,000 in investments in nut-vending machines.

The men were charged with mail fraud and conspiracy. They included Jack Kootchick, Philadelphia, president of the Royal Distributing Co., which operated in Philadelphia in 1955 and 1956, and 11 salesmen of the firm.

Postal inspectors said the firm did not live up to promises made in magazine advertisements offering to set customers up in the nut-vending business. Asst. U.S. Atty. Louis Bechtel, said the machines were sold at $40 each but only cost the company $11.25 each.

Named were Sol Gleaner, Howard N. Ginsburg, Stanley Adelman, Stephen S. Goss, Harry Perkins, Stanley Elkan, Jack La Boda, and Stamford Rifkin, all of Philadelphia; Leonard Sloane, Havertown; Samuel Dash, of Wynnewood, and William Dimmock, Pittsburgh.

Judge Hoban Won't Consider Pair's Plea

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—President Judge T. Linus Hoban said yesterday Lackawanna County Court will not consider nolo contendere pleas by two Scranton labor leaders scheduled to be tried next week on conspiracy charges.

The accusations against Joseph F. Bartell and Philip Brady grew out of the dynamiting of a partly constructed home in Scranton which was being put up by non-union labor.

Counsel for the two men conferred earlier in the week with Judge Hoban concerning the nolo contendere pleas.

Bartell is president and Brady vice president of the Scranton building trades council. They are now appealing to the state supreme court an earlier conspiracy conviction growing out of the same case.

The two compared notes, found Baker had served with the 349th Infantry and Raab with the 313th Engineers. The two units had fought side by side in Europe, but Baker and Raab, both countians, had not met until at the court house here 12 years later.

I ask for the faith to journey . . . as it is my greatest need . . . somehow God rewards the faithful . . . with the power to succeed . . . every sincere prayer brings comfort . . . and a tender peace of mind . . . such is the precious gift I gain . . . from One who rules mankind . . . however great my sorrow be . . . it really matters not . . . with God I can go forward . . . and loosen grief's taut knot . . . oh Lord, I beg of You to keep . . . my faith always aglow . . . replace all doubt with deep belief . . . so I can conquer woe . . . because without Your endless love . . . I'm sure to lose my way . . . God keep my faith forever strong . . . most humbly I pray.

Peak and Pine Mountain to the southeast, just four miles from Monrovia and Azusa.

The others were on the northwest edge—three patches of thickly-brushed terrain in an uninhabited area.

No homes were threatened, but fire trucks and crews were strung out along the foothills to protect communities in case a sudden wind change should whip the flames in their direction.

No one was reported injured, and only an unoccupied cabin and two sheds were burned.

Ashes Over L. A.

Sheriff's deputies raised three roadblocks in the fire area to keep roads clear of all but emergency vehicles.

Soldiers at the Nike site at Barclay Flats, three miles from the northeast front of the blaze, and at a missile direction center on Mt. Disappointment, five miles west of the fire, worked to clear brush from around their positions. Neither site was threatened, however.

The fire yesterday spread a pall of ashes across Los Angeles to the sea, some 25 miles away. Residents of the suburban communities of Altadena and Montrose complained of a grey carpet of ashes and airborne cinders.

France Refuses To Negotiate Algeria

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Algerian rebels today accepted, but France rejected a Tunisian-Moroccan proposal to negotiate an end of the Algerian revolt.

The proposal called for French recognition of Algerian sovereignty, a big step toward independence which Paris refuses to discuss. The French rejection said Tunisia and Morocco are not neutral in the three-year-old war.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press complained yesterday that the biggest sporting goods store in Moscow has no winter sports equipment. A clerk said the winter season had not yet set in.

A newspaper also reported that a furniture store in Kazakhstan in Central Asia has no furniture.

PHOTOGRAPHER

YOUNG MOTHER

CHICAGO (AP)—A baby photographer early today admitted, police said, bludgeoning an expectant 16-year-old mother with a sawed-off baseball bat and fatally stabbing her.

The victim, Mrs. Darlene Todd, was found stabbed eight times yesterday in her west side apartment. An eight-inch kitchen knife was found near her body.

Capt. Herbert H. Burns said 24-year-old Robert Stacey, a married man with two children, admitted killing Mrs. Todd.

Stacey was not immediately charged.

Took Picture First

Burns quoted Stacey as saying he slugged Mrs. Todd with the baseball bat after taking six photographs of the woman's six-month-old daughter, Karen Lynn.

Then, police said Stacey attacked Mrs. Todd, who struggled to prevent the stabbing.

Earlier, Stacey told police he left Mrs. Todd alive after making a morning appointment. However, authorities found a blood-stained shirt in Stacey's home and when the photographer was confronted with the soiled garment, he admitted the slaying.

Stacey told police he carried the baseball bat as a prop for his equipment. He also said he continued on his appointment schedule after he went home to change the stained shirt.

Stacey was seized by police after they found his appointment card in the Todd apartment. The victim's husband, Tony, 19, a magazine company salesman, was away all day on a south side trip.

The couple recently moved to Chicago from Buffalo, N.Y.

Mrs. Todd's body, clad in a robe and moccasins, was found with seven wounds in her chest and one slashing cut on her head. The victim was discovered by a neighbor, Mrs. Judith Rock, who with her husband also had moved to Chicago from Buffalo.

Pictures To Be Surprise

Mrs. Rock, 18, asked the landlady, Mrs. Mildred Kerz to open the Todd apartment after the victim failed to answer a number of phone calls and knocks on the door.

Mrs. Rock said she and her husband, Fred, 20, had played cards with the Todds until early yesterday morning.

She also said Todd did not know his wife made the appointment with Stacey. Mrs. Rock said the child's pictures were to be a surprise Christmas gift for the husband.

KASPER BEGINS
YEARS IN PRISON

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Segregationist John Kasper has begun serving a one-year federal prison sentence for criminal contempt of court.

Kasper was checked into the Federal Correctional Institution here yesterday. The tall, black-haired northerner from New Jersey was convicted of interfering last year with federal court orders to integrate the high school at Clinton, Tenn.

He was brought to prison from Knoxville, Tenn., where the six-month sentence was handed down last week. His attorney planned an appeal.

Warden Eugene R. Goodwyn said Kasper had several books with him when he arrived but he did not know if "Mein Kampf" was among them. The books were taken away from Kasper and will be sent either to his relatives or to his attorney.

Herbert Hoover became an orphan at the age of 8.

Man's 1st

as it hurtled upwards to the 54-mile point where the charges exploded.

It was pure chance, Dublin said, that one charge was pointing upwards, permitting fragments of its casing to shoot out beyond the grip of gravity.

Gravity Lost Them

Earth's gravity tried to recapture them and slowed them down as they raced away, but their speed was so great that scores of thousands of miles out, they could not be pulled back, and they passed the point of no return.

Aimed properly, such pellets could fly out and intercept the path of Mars, the moon, Venus or some other planet. As they fell through space, Mars' gravity could attract them and bring them pinging down on its surface. On Oct. 16, scientists said, the moon was not in the right position to be hit.

Dublin said the explosive used was a common paste type known as composition B and was in no sense a secret.

Belief was expressed by a scientist yesterday that the meteors are circling the sun.

The explosives were detached from the main rocket so they would not destroy the Aerobee, Dublin said. The rocket and its instruments parachuted to earth and were recovered.

The fragments were seen after the nighttime firing because they glowed briefly, but moved away rather than towards the earth. Most real meteors, little larger than grains of sand, perish when they burn up in the earth's atmosphere.

Traveling at an average speed of 30,000 m.p.h. once beyond the pull of the earth the fragments could have shot over 26 million miles since Oct. 16. This is roughly equal to about five round trips to the moon or something less than one third the 93-million mile distance to the sun.

motor oil were stolen after they failed to gain entrance into the station office, police said. A small sum of money, cigars and soft drinks were taken at the Amoco station.

The investigators said the two first stole the automobile of Eugene Kuhn, Hanover, and abandoned it when they drove it in a ditch alongside the Sinclair service station, 661 Broadway, Hanover.

They then stole the automobile of Robert Marchio, Hanover, from where it was parked on Railroad St. Later they attempted to steal the car of Richard Weaver, Hanover, from where it was parked in the east end of town, but fled when the owner appeared, police said.

When questioned at police headquarters, both signed confessions and at the hearing before Naill Becker entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was committed to the York County jail for court action. Kling was committed to the county detention home to wait action by juvenile authorities.

Today's Talk

BOOKS THAT THINK

Thinking is one of the great arts, perhaps the greatest, but if we don't think some writer of a book is sure to step up to us and think for us! I got this idea from Charles Lamb, who said: "When I am not walking, I am reading; I cannot sit and think. Books think for me."

I never quite thought of books in this manner, but it is interesting. It sounds reasonable. Books become very human when I read them that stir and inspire me, so it is a comfortable feeling to think that a book can help to do our thinking for us. I know there are books to which I turn time and again, and often they seem to talk to me.

Whenever I read a great book of fiction, all the characters come alive, and I am introduced to them.
Many become my friends, who do think for me. I am sure I must quote from many of them in these Talks. That is, make a note of the thoughts they create right within me.

Whenever I walk into a great room in a library and see scores of silent readers busy at their tables, it is as though I had walked into a room of thoughts, instead of a room of people hunting out something as researchers. I often take a table myself and just sit, awaiting the echo of thoughts.

Montaigne used to say: "If you want to know about me, read my book." I read it many years ago and many times since. It's one of those rare books that does think for me — or for anyone with book-love in his makeup!

All around me, during all the days of my life, books do thinking for me. So vivid is the feeling that often I wonder if I am not quoting from myself, unconsciously!

LUCK AND SKILL

Luck and Skill were rivals old;
Luck was ever over-bold;
Skill just plodded on his way,
Doing something every day;
Luck by leaps and bounds would fly—
Down today, tomorrow high.

Luck and Skill both chanced to meet Journeying along the street.
Luck said unto Skill: "Let's race,
Just to see who wins first place."
Skill agreed. Away Luck sped,
In an hour a mile ahead.

Skill seemed, oh, so slow until Luck approached a mighty hill;
Luck knew not which way to turn;
He had had no time to learn.
Skill, though, seemed the road to know;
Knowledge told him where to go.

Skill looked back at Luck and said:
"Those who trust to you must tread
Many weary miles each day,
I'm the one who knows the way;
Obstacles frighten you, Luck.
Skill gets there by brain and pluck."

WAR COLLEGE AT CARLISLE IS 56 YEARS OLD

Next Wednesday marks the 56th anniversary of the founding of the U. S. Army War College at Carlisle.
Following close on the heels of American Education Week (November 10-16), which had as its theme this year "Education for Modern America," the college is today oriented to the education of senior officers of the armed services for the future security of the nation.

Secretary of War, Ellihu Root, as a result of national experiences in the Spanish-American War, saw the need for an institution where selected officers would be given instruction to prepare themselves for future assignments to high-level staff and command positions in the Army. Thus, Secretary Root conceived the idea for the establishment of the Army War College and the college was approved by Congress on November 27, 1901.

Today, through its curriculum, the college continues Root's philosophy.
"... not to promote war, but to preserve peace by intelligent and adequate preparation to repel aggression." The curriculum is divided into two sections. Part I, "The United States and Its National Strategy," is developed through three courses of study over a 17-week period, and Part II, "Military Doctrine, Strategy and Readiness," consists of studies through six courses which consume the remainder of the 10-month academic year.

Army In Defense
Although combined and joint service aspects of the military problems are stressed, the second portion of the curriculum places greatest emphasis on the role of the Army in national defense. The class of 200 senior officers is comprised of representatives of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, Department of State and certain other civilian government agencies.

The instruction is conducted at the post-graduate level, based primarily upon a system of written committee solutions to broad problems which are followed by oral presentations to the other members of the student body. The emphasis is placed on group solving through assignment of the students to committees, individual research and study, plus intellectual freedom in thought and discussion. Supporting the curriculum are carefully selected guest lecturers and consultants who are recognized leaders in their fields.

Select Senior Officers
The faculty, headed by the commandant, Maj. Gen. Max S. Johnson, and the deputy commandant, Brig. Gen. Edgar C. Coleman, is composed of selected senior officers who are qualified in various aspects of the military arts and sciences and of the social disciplines by virtue of broad study and experience. Selection of students to attend the college is made by the Department of the Army and other departments and agencies represented. Generally, the student must have completed over 15 years active commissioned service and be a graduate of the Command and General Staff School or its equivalent.

Located at historic Carlisle Barracks, Pa., which this year is observing its 200th anniversary, the U. S. Army War College bases its instruction on the belief that only through critical analysis by informed persons can real progress be made. This concept is reflected in the college motto: Prudens Futuri—Provident for the Future.

FAST'S DEFECTION

Says Party a Prison for Social

Dreams

HOWARD FAST quit the staff of the Communist "Daily Worker" and shook off the chains of party membership last June. He is not the first of the fuzzy fringe literati to make this decision. He will not be the last.

FAST was born in 1914, which means he was 20 years of age when the depression of the thirties was at its lowest. Like many other New York City boys he found the going tough. Twenty-five cents an hour was a lot of money. He often considered himself lucky to be able to earn it.

From the study of art he turned to writing. Always sensitive, frequently sentimental and ever socially conscious, he found himself in revolt against American society.

Meanwhile he was developing rare ability as a short story writer, novelist, biographer and historian with a journalistic flair.

TOO IMPATIENT for thorough research and often too sentimental for accurate reporting, his efforts as a biographer and historian are more readable than worthy, more emotional than informative.

For example, his books, "Citizen Tom Paine" (1943) and "The American: Biography of Peter Altgeld" (1946), attracted considerable attention, enjoyed good sales.
They are not good books. You cannot substitute social sermonizing for the truth and achieve a good book. Their slanting—ultimately highlighted the fact that their author had become a card-carrying Communist.

He sets the date of his having joined the party as 1943, but he was party lining before that.

LIKE OTHERS who have quit the party before him Mr. Fast seeks atonement through revelations of his experience as a practicing American Communist.

It is interesting to note that June 5, 1956, appears to be the exact date of his decision, though he must have had many misgivings prior thereto, in the light of his recent essay "On Leaving the Communist Party" in the November 16 issue of the "Saturday Review."

SEIXAS WINS, FLAM LOSES AT ADELAIDE

By WILL GRIMSLEY
ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Old warhorse Vic Seixas, 34, and a step slower than his halcyon days, carried America's punctured tennis colors into the quarterfinals of the South Australian tennis championships today with six Australians and a Belgian.

"It looks like we are in trouble," Bill Talbert, U. S. Davis Cup captain, said after watching other members of his squad go down in another dark afternoon for the Yankee courtmen.

Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., counted on to help carry the singles load in the series of approaching Davis Cup tests, lost to Australian Rod Laver, 19, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3, 6-0. Ron Holmberg, 18, promising prospect from Brooklyn, lost to fourth-seeded Mervyn Rose of Australia 1-6, 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

Veteran Gardner Mulloy and youngsters Mike Green and Barry MacKay were sent to the sidelines earlier.

It remained for Seixas, as at Sydney a few days ago, to last out the quarter-finals. The well-conditioned Philadelphia, on his seventh trip to Australia, won over Warren Woodcock, one of Australia's top ten players, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4.

"Thank goodness for Seixas," Talbert said. "I don't know what we would do without him."

Two of the night's three $1,500 stakes were won by United States horses — the Eaton conformation hunter stake by Waiting Home, owned by Peggy Augustus of Cobham, Va., and the Phillips five-gallop saddle horse stake by Mickey Finn, owned by Brynfan Tyddyn of Harvey's Lake, Pa.

HARTACK TO RIDE PROMISED LAND TODAY

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP) — When you talk about highly paid athletes, don't forget jockeys—Bill Hartack in particular. Hartack rides Promised Land in the $50,000-added Idlewild Handicap at Jamaica today, and a victory would boost the amount of purse loot his horses have won in 1957 to an unprecedented $3,000,000.

Promised Land, owned by Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs, is expected to be made the favorite over eight other rugged campaigners in the mile and one-eighth Idlewild. The 3-year-old also will be after something of a record, three straight stakes scores on three consecutive Saturdays.

With nine going, the net pot will hit $37,500, the winner netting $39,400.

Hartack Seeks 42nd

Hartack, who has been nursing a cold, flew here from Miami in quest of his 42nd stakes victory of the season. Promised Land won the Knickerbocker Handicap Nov. 9 and then set a stakes record in capturing the Roamer Handicap.

However, there is no assurance Promised Land will be able to handle the older horses this time. He beat 3-year-olds the last two Saturdays.

C. T. Cheney's Third Brother, second in both the Jockey Club Gold Cup and the Washington D.C. International, has top weight of 126 pounds and is to be handled by Ted Atkinson. Promised Land packs 121.

SAYS THREAT OF SUIT AGAINST NFL "UNWISE"

BALTIMORE (AP) — Carroll Rosenbloom, president of the Baltimore Colts, said last night attorney Creighton Miller's threat of a $4,200,000 lawsuit against the National Football League is not in keeping with the "maturity and restraint" of the players he represents.

Miller, former Notre Dame football star now representing the NFL Players Assn., announced plans for an anti-trust suit against the league Thursday in Cleveland. He said it probably will not be filed if NFL club owners meet the association's demands.

"It seems that while the player representatives have been conducting themselves with restraint and maturity," said Rosenbloom in a press statement, "their legal advisor has been resorting to threats and intimidation."

Think Lawsuit Unwise
Rosenbloom said several player representatives had told Miller they thought the lawsuit would be unwise.

"The player representatives told him they had been informed by their respective club owners that all the things the players wanted would be forthcoming at the Dec. 2 or January meeting of the National Football League meeting."

The chief demand is recognition of the Players Assn. by club owners. The association also objects to certain league rules which Miller contends give the league "complete and absolute control" over players.

COLTS' GAME WITH 49ERS IN BIG ONE

By JIM KENSIL

The 1957 Baltimore Colts have already won as many games as any Baltimore team ever did in the National Football League. Tomorrow they go for No. 6 against the San Francisco 49ers in a Western Conference game that will virtually eliminate the loser from the title race.

And the winner could move into sole possession of first place in the division if the Detroit Lions should lose to the Chicago Bears.

The 49ers, Colts and Lions are tied for the Western lead with 5-3 records. Each has three games to play after today, but the schedule definitely favors the Lions.

Green Bay At Pittsburgh

In other action tomorrow, Green Bay is at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles at Cleveland, New York at the Chicago Cards and Washington at Philadelphia.

The Colts are a touchdown favorite over the 49ers at Baltimore and the Lions rate the same edge over the visiting Bears, the Western's fifth place team with a 3-3 mark.

Pittsburgh is favored by 3; Cleveland by 4; New York by 6, and Washington by 2.

Cleveland, boasting the league's leading rusher in Jimmy Brown and the top passer in Tommy O'Connell, can nail down the Eastern Conference championship by winning all its remaining games. The Browns have a 6-1-1 mark while the runner-up Giants are 6-2. With the other Eastern clubs just about out of the running, the Cleveland-New York battle at New York Dec. 15 should decide the division king.

"TWO KAYOES" FOR CALHOUN IN ONE ROUND

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time in 50 years of managing, my guy knocks out the same fellow twice in one night.

That was the gleeful reaction of Rory Calhoun's manager, Frank Bachman after last night's confusing ending at Madison Square Garden. It was a great night for Bachman, who used to be satisfied when his Maxie Rosenbloom scored his annual knockout.

Mixup By Referee

Calhoun clobbered Bobby Boyd of Chicago with a right to the body and another right to the chin at the start of the second round. Boyd went down. He staggered to his feet at five, fell against the ropes and bounced around the ring as the count went to eight.

Referee Al Berl extended his arms in a motion that about 2,499 of the estimated 2,500 fans understood to be the end of the bout.

As Boyd started toward his corner, Berl suddenly wiped off his gloves and waved the boys into action.

Two Versions
Calhoun clouted Boyd on the side of the head with a long right hand punch and down he went again. The count reached three before Berl positively stopped it.

"I was waving Calhoun to a neutral corner," said Berl. "I didn't stop it until after the second knockdown." Boyd said the referee told him not to fight anymore, it was all over.

Berl claimed he said nothing to Boyd about stopping the fight.

Gets TKO
Bernie Glickman, Boyd's manager, was screaming in the dressing room, ready to protest to the New York State Athletic Commission.

The rhubarb detracted from the performance of Calhoun, who officially was credited with a technical knockout in 25 seconds of the second round of a 10-round match. Calhoun, the 2 to 1 favorite, weighed 160, Boyd 159 pounds.

Billy Brown, matchmaker of the International Boxing Club, said he would try to match Calhoun, No. 3 in the ratings and No. 5 with the National Boxing Assn. with Gene Fullmer, the No. 2 contender.

Arcaro Reminded To Ride Carefully

BALTIMORE (AP) — Jockey Eddie Arcaro's memory ought to remind him to ride Misty Flight carefully in today's Pimlico Futurity.

He rode in the race for the first time in 1936 and won it with Calumet Farm's favored Privilege. But the stewards figured Arcaro did it the hard way by fouling, disqualified Privilege and suspended the then 20-year old jockey for six months.

It was the longest suspension ever incurred in Arcaro's career. He hasn't been able to win another Pimlico Futurity since.

His presence in the saddle will help Wheeling Stable's Misty Flight to be at least second choice among the half dozen 2-year-olds entered in the mile and sixteenth race worth a total of $162,740, fourth biggest amount ever offered anywhere.

Mrs. Elizabeth Arden Graham's Jewel's Reward looms as the probable favorite. A victory would virtually sew up the year's year-old colt title for Jewel's Reward and the $113,347 first prize would make him the top winner of all time with $349,642 in the first year of racing.

TRADITIONS, TITLES JINX ON GRID TODAY

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

Tradition, titles and a jinx here and there spiced today's college football schedule, with the Oregon-Oregon State game bundling all three angles in a showdown for the Pacific Coast Conference championship.

Oregon had the edge, and a Rose Bowl berth clinched going into the game with a 6-1 record to Oregon State's 5-2. Oregon also had a 29-23 jump in the 60-game series, which has seen eight ties.

But the Webfeet also butted a jinx, never having claimed an undisputed title, although they three times have shared the crown.

Oregon State, the defending champ and thus barred from a repeat trip to the Rose Bowl, can make it a dual championship again with a victory.

Duke Vs. Dartmouth

Much the same situation confronted Duke and Dartmouth. The Blue Devils, all but officially named to the Orange Bowl, could clinch the Atlantic Coast Conference title by defeating North Carolina. But if Duke should lose and North Carolina State defeat South Carolina, State would get the crown, although barred from bowl play by the NCAA.

Dartmouth with a 5-0-1 record, and Princeton (5-1-0) met for the Ivy League championship at Princeton.

Dartmouth was fighting a jinx, too. The Indians defeated Princeton 19-0 last season, but they've whipped the Tigers two in a row only once in their long series, in 1937-38.

Need To Win Big

Michigan State, top ranked in this week's Associated Press poll, zeroed in on the national championship against Kansas State. The Spartans needed a whopping score to nail the title, however, since this was their last game and second-ranked Auburn, which played Florida State, has another crack at luring votes next week against Alabama.

Ohio State, No. 3 after snatching the Big 10 title and Rose Bowl ticket by defeating Iowa a week ago, met Michigan in another of those traditional tussles. Iowa faced Notre Dame with the Irish still up from last week's upset of Oklahoma, which already has the Big Eight title and Orange Bowl trip clinched.

2 FIGHTS, 37 AHL PENALTIES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American Hockey League had itself a ball of a brawl last night, with two fights and 37 penalties as Rochester defeated second place Providence 4-2 and Cleveland broke a fifth place tie with Springfield by defeating the Indians 3-2 in the only games scheduled.

The fights were staged at Cleveland, where the Barons blew a 2-0 lead, then climbed into a fourth place tie with Buffalo on Gordon Velprava's goal with little more than three minutes remaining.

Tony Schneider of Springfield and Bo Elk of Cleveland had it in the first match, in the second period. Then Cleveland's Pete Gogan and Injun Floyd Hillman went at it in a wild third period that saw 10 penalties — four of them majors.

Buddy Boone counted both of Springfield's goals after Elk and Danny Poliziani had given Cleveland the lead in the first two minutes and 10 seconds of play.

Rochester scored three goals in the last period, getting the clincher on Gary Collins' shot midway through the frame for a 3-1 lead. In scoring its first home victory in almost a month, The decision moved the Americans within a point of the Reds.

This one had 20 penalties, including two majors and a 10-minute misconduct.

St. Joseph's Wins X-Country Title

By DAVE O'HARA

BOSTON (AP) — Boston baseball writers, often at odds with Ted Williams, joined Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey today in blasting two unidentified scribes for slighting the slugger.

The Boston writers and Yawkey were fired by the votes of two out-of-town newspapermen who listed Williams as ninth and 10th in the balloting for the American League's Most Valuable Player.

New York's Mickey Mantle edged Williams for the award, 233 points to 209, on the basis of 14 points for first place, nine for second, eight for third etc. Three writers in each American League city picked 10 players in order.

Joe Cashman of the Daily Record, whose top choice for the mvp was Williams, said it was "inconceivable" that any informed and experienced writer could select eight or nine more valuable players in the league.

"Personal Animosity"

"I can only attribute their action to personal animosity," Cashman said.

Henry McKenna of the Herald, who also selected Williams on top on his ballot, said he was surprised at the two lowly votes.

"I think that something should be done to rectify the situation," McKenna said.

Hy Hurwitz of the Globe, Boston's third voter, said he was surprised at the choice of Mantle. Hurwitz said he named Gil McDougald of the Yankees as his MVP choice, with Williams second.

Yawkey said he didn't want to take anything away from Mantle but that he was bothered by "those ninth and 10th place votes for Ted."

"I do not think anyone who lets personalities interfere with his judgment is qualified or competent to vote in such a balloting," Yawkey said.

Given The "Ice-Pick"
Globe Sports Editor Jerry Nason noted in his column that ballots were not signed and said that "unless the culprits reveal themselves, nobody'll ever know who gave Ted the ice-pick."

Herald columnist Bill Cunningham wrote "It's impossible to believe those votes were cast in sincerity."

"It looks too suspiciously like slugs looking for personal reasons . . ." Cunningham added.

Daily Record columnist John Gillyou wrote:

"I sure looks as though some animosity was involved, and that Tom Yawkey, who seldom bleats, was correct in saying that personalities interfered with sound judgment."

Williams, 39, who hit .338, clouted 38 homers and had a slugging average of .731, said in Puerto Rico "It doesn't make any difference to me one way or another" when informed of the vote. He has been in San Juan making a sports and travel film.

Feed Good Hay To Livestock, County Agent Zettle Advises

Most cattle and sheep on Adams County farms receive the major source of their winter nutrients from hay. However, not all hay supplies the animals with top quality feed value. Hay varies widely in its content of protein, vitamins, minerals, and other essential nutrients. The value of the hay now being fed is determined largely by when and how it was made last summer.

Hay cut in the early bloom stage of maturity usually has more feed value than hay cut in full bloom or later. The early bloom hay contains more protein, the stems are finer and easier to digest, and the livestock consume it with more relish.

Color is also a good indication of the feed value. Bright green hay contains much more vitamin A than yellow sun-bleached hay. Slow curing in the field results in much loss of this important vitamin. Rained-on hay had much of the nutrients leached out; the vitamin content is lowered, and the mineral content is decreased. Most of the leaves are lost from legume hays that are cured over a long period of time. Protein is probably the most expensive feed nutrient that must be supplied to livestock. The leaves on most legumes contain better than twice the protein content of the stems. If the leaves are left in the field, the cattle and sheep are missing an important source of nutrients in their daily ration of hay.

Improper storage is another big cause for feeding value. Hay stored at more than 25 per cent moisture can easily mold, heat, and lose much of its dry matter and vitamin content.

Good hay is "hard to beat" for feed value, "yet any one of the above factors can readily reduce the feed value of this important source of nutrition for livestock."

The National Sanitation Foundation had established standards on both raw materials and pipe used for the transmission of drinking water.

Pipe meeting the rigid specifications of the Foundation bears its seal and is labeled "NSF" on the pipe's surface.

The plastic pipe industry has taken a strong stand against the use of second grade polyethylene materials in the manufacturing of plastic pipe for drinking water and most manufacturers have agreed that second grade pipe should in no way be identified as being recommended for drinking water.

Plastic pipe is manufactured in one of most grades or wall thicknesses depending upon the working pressure required. If a situation calls for high working pressure be sure the pipe you buy is designed for the job. Look for the symbol "NSF," or be sure that the particular grade is satisfactory for carrying drinking water.

Slaughter For No-Profit Cows. Culling unprofitable cows is good business anytime, but when so many dairymen are facing a critical winter feed shortage is an excellent time to give those milk production and profit-per-cow records closer scrutiny.

Slaughter prices for cull cows may not be the highest in November, but anyone keeping milk cows in the dairy, not beef business, and should cull animals on the basis of production and profit making ability.

Unfortunately, there is no magic formula for culling, but two main questions ought to be considered. First, will it pay you to replace cow "x" with a higher producer? Secondly, will it pay to remove cow "x" without replacing her?

As a guide for estimating a completed lactation, a cow will produce about one-half of her total lactation during the first four months. Consequently, for a cow to finish a lactation at the "break-even" production level of 300 pounds of fat, she must have produced at least 150 pounds of fat during the first 120 days.

Some other questions can be asked to help decide whether particular individuals should get a one-way ticket from the barn. There are:

1. If she is a first calf heifer, did she produce 30 per cent below your herd average?

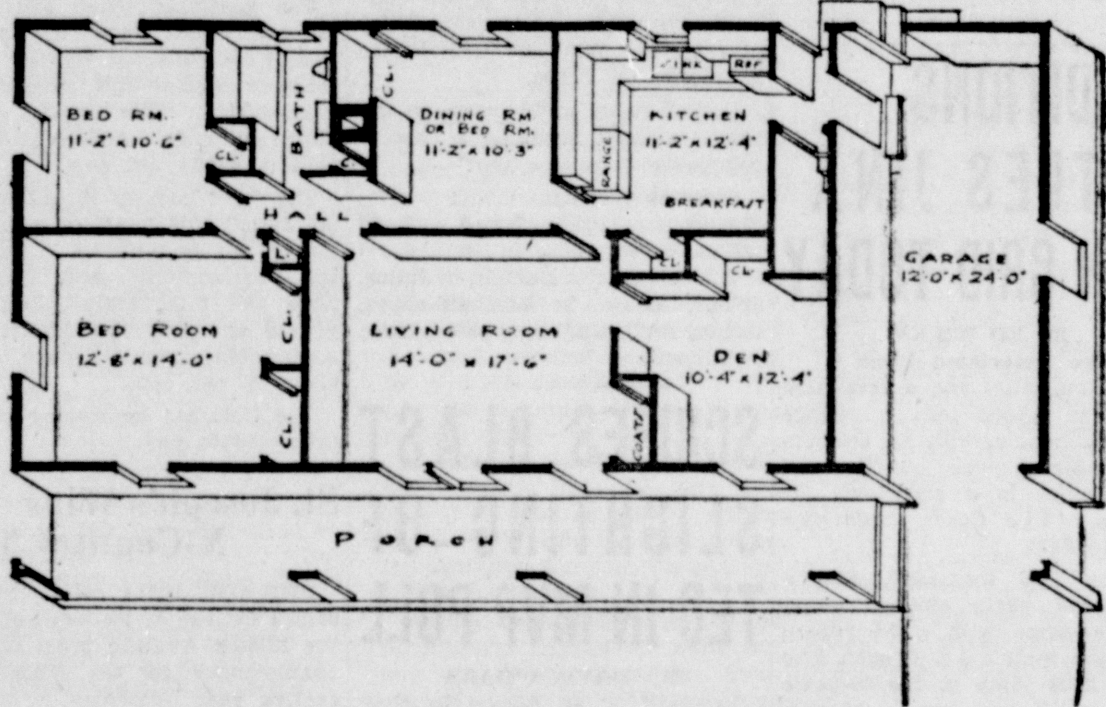

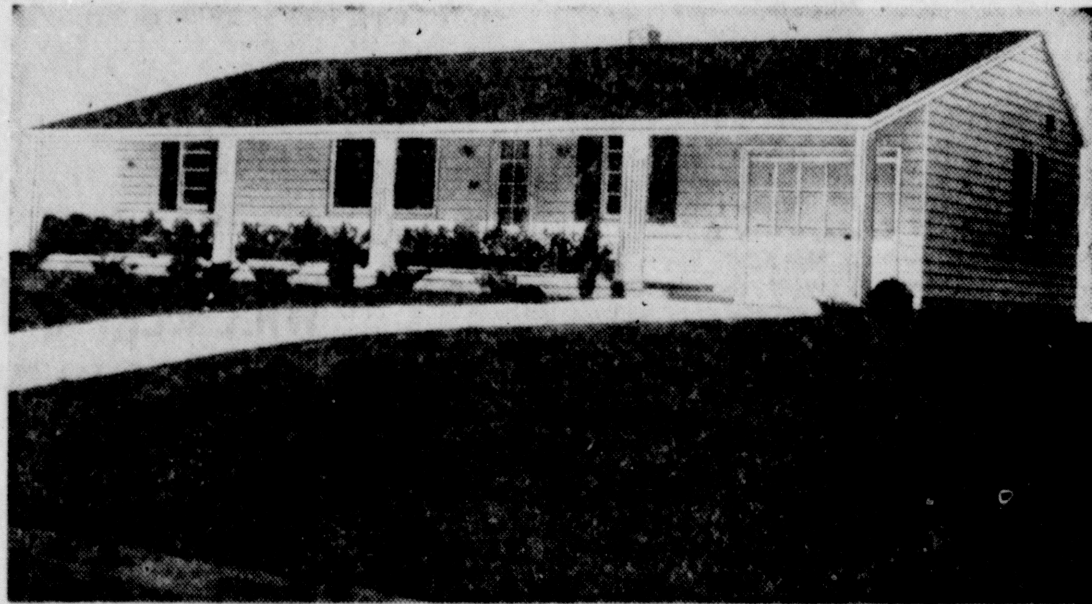

2. Will she stand dry six months or more?

3. Does she have a record of mastitis?

4. Does she have a record of breeding trouble?

On the average racing day at Pimlico there are 50,000 winning tickets cashed on the eight races and the daily double. It requires 120 cashiers to make the payoffs.

'The Sandra' Features Front Porch

Rooms _____ Six Bedrooms _____ Three Closets _____ Nine
Dimensions _____ 25 by 60 feet
Cubage _____
House _____ 22,000 feet
Garage _____ 4,000 feet

"The Sandra," today's Home of the Week, is designed according to the popular ranch house style. Yet, it features a front porch—an old-fashioned feature that is regaining its popularity.

Measuring 25 by 60 feet, the house has a cubage of 22,000 feet. Garage cubage is 4,000 feet. You'll need approximately an 85-foot lot to build this house which would look equally attractive in any setting.

Clapboards or shingles are suggested for the exterior of this house. Colored roofing can be used to advantage. Flower boxes on the porch—as in the accompanying illustration—give added decorative appeal to the house exterior and add to the charming old fashioned touch provided by the front porch.

Inside this well planned house are six rooms. The front door opens directly into the living room which connects with a central hallway leading to the other rooms in the house.

Two regular bedrooms are included in this house plan. And, if you should need a third bedroom you can easily use the room designated as a dining room or bedroom.

Farmers Exchange Opens In County

An Eastern States Service Center has been established at Biglerville on a full time basis with portable grinding and molasses mixing and corn shelling service available.

Land has been purchased from Clayton Jester on the east end of Biglerville where a new building is being erected. It will be occupied about the end of January.

Eastern States Farmers Exchange, Inc., is a farmers purchasing co-operative, a farmer-owned and directed, distributing all types of feed from the farmers, feed mills, vegetable seeds and field seeds, fertilizers, agricultural chemicals, and farm supplies.

The cooperative has 200,000 members and patrons with a 1956 dollar volume of $85,375,092.39.

The personnel at the Biglerville Service Center includes: Manager Paul J. Reaver, Gettysburg; assistant manager, J. Malcolm Heaps, Biglerville; John K. Frederick, portable operator, and Menno Rissler, deliveryman.

for this purpose. Any family that wants a guest room will find that the den can readily serve this double purpose.

Because it is so pleasant—and of such good size—the living room can very conveniently be used as a dining room, too. And, since it's located near the kitchen, serving meals, etc., in this combination room will prove to be no problem for the housewife.

In the all-modern kitchen your appliances, cabinets and cupboards are all within easy reach. The window over the sink helps to make the kitchen a more pleasant place in which to work.

Since there is no space in the house proper for your laundry equipment you'll have to have your washer, dryer, etc., installed in the basement. They should be placed under the kitchen or bath. Then, your heating plant should be installed under the living room. Be sure to provide bulkheads for safe and easy access to the yard from the basement.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost.

For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, The Gettysburg Times, Dept. 8, and enclose a self-addressed, 3 cent stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Middleweight champion Carmen Basilio's first professional fight resulted in a three-round knock-out over Jimmy Evans in Binghamton, N. Y., on Nov. 24, 1948.

May Soon Set Death Watch For Carrier Rocket Of Sputnik I

By JOHN A. HARRIS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sputnik I's carrier rocket — which has been whirling around the earth since Oct. 4 — may plunge back into the atmosphere at any time.

British scientists said this last night, U.S. experts had estimated earlier the rocket would fall about Dec. 11. The main satellite is expected to stay aloft several weeks longer.

There is no way to determine where the rocket will drop, but scientists say parts of the tough metal might survive the flaming descent and hit the earth.

"May Skitter Off"
Dr. John S. Rhinehart, assistant director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said that if the rocket falls on the United States, the laws of probability indicate it would be likely to fall in the northern part of the nation because its path crosses that area more than the southern part.

But, he added, as the rocket drops it might "skitter off in any direction."

Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope station notified the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory last night that the rocket section might make its death plunge within 24 hours.

Up Seven Weeks
Dr. J. Allen Hynek, the U. S. Observatory's associate director, said in a statement shortly afterward:

"Until we have further evidence and information we can say no more. We are waiting more information with interest."

"We have not as yet alerted moonwatch teams for a special death watch."

The rocket carried the first Russian satellite into space seven weeks ago. The second Soviet satellite, which carried a dog as a passenger, was put in orbit Nov. 3. There have been no definite predictions yet as to when Sputnik II might fall.

Expected To Burn
As the rocket drops into the atmosphere, friction is expected to cause it to burn like a meteor. Space experts say the descent could provide information about the density of the atmosphere at high altitudes.

Moscow indicated yesterday the rocket had made more than 730 trips around the earth, traveling at about 18,000 miles an hour.

Missiles Into Space
There were other developments yesterday:

1. The Air Force disclosed it has fired two tiny artificial meteors into space in a test, and that the particles were believed to have reached peak speeds of 40,000 miles an hour, escaping into outer space.

2. A Russian diplomat in London — O. K. Sapunov — said Soviet scientists are working on a space rocket powered by photons, units of light. Photons travel at 186,000 miles a second, the speed of light. Accepted theories hold that no body or mass can reach this speed.

3. A report in New York, by the National Broadcasting Co., said Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, a leading atomic scientist, will be invited back to government work in view of accelerated emphasis on satellites and missiles. NBC quoted a White House source it did not name. Oppenheimer formerly was a consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission. In 1955 he was denied access to government secrets on security grounds. He is now with the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N.J.

Says "Vanguard" Better
4. A spokesman for the Los Alamos, N.M., scientific laboratory, which has been studying nuclear rocket propulsion for 2½ years, said the "principles are feasible." The laboratory said 120 persons are working in a division concerned with that subject. But the spokesman indicated the researchers are far from ready with anything like a model of a nuclear rocket engine.

5. A British engineer, Dr. R. L. F. Boyd, said in London he thinks the American Navy's satellite program, Project Vanguard, is a "better approach" than the Russian method "in that it is cheaper."

The Air Force said in Bedford, Mass., its artificial meteors consisted of tiny aluminum fragments fired from an Aerobee rocket at an altitude of 54 miles. Air Force scientists said these fragments could have hit the moon in 10 hours if the moon had been in the right position.

Tests In October
The test was made Oct. 1 over the Air Force launching center in New Mexico.

Maurice Dubin, physicist at the Air Force's Cambridge, Mass., research center, said at a news conference that the meteors were fired from three "shaped charges" — charges that cause a blast to take a desired direction.

Jerome Pressman, another physicist for the Air Force, said the fragments had an initial velocity of 40,000 miles an hour, but probably averaged about 30,000 m.p.h. after escaping the earth's gravity.

Now Circling Sun
Physicists estimated a velocity of 25,000 m.p.h. is necessary to escape the earth's pull.

Dubin said the production of artificial meteors should be useful as a tool for controlled experiments in the physics of the upper atmosphere.

Dr. Fritz Zwicky of the California Institute of Technology said in Pasadena that he thinks the artificial meteors now are circling the sun.

"From their speed and directions, I am certain they escaped and that they are now circling in a long ellipse around the sun," he said.
